John Thomas Duelge so we should do away with laws against speeding and just let everyone drive as fast as they want???

Michael Swenson <http://edition.cnn.com/2013/07/17/us/aclu-license-plates-readers> and <http://gpsandtrack.com/starter-disable/> what I'm more concerned about than the dangers of speeders (which is more and more difficult simply because of the presence of so much traffic) is the growing big brother surveillance mechanism, technology that can take images, send tickets in the mail, shut off your vehicle by remote control (not you the user but police powers, government) and this notion that somehow government and law enforcement is perfect and so perfect they deserve lethal force over everyone else and this level of constantly increasing surveillance and control. I for one, once enjoyed not having some fallible being(s) constantly watching my every waking and sleeping moment; frankly, I believe only God Almighty deserves that position.

ACLU raises privacy concerns about police technology tracking drivers

<http://edition.cnn.com/2013/07/17/us/aclu-license-plates-readers>

Police around the U.S. are recording the license plates of passing drivers and storing the information for years with little privacy protection, the ACLU says. http://www.law.cornell.edu/constitution/fourth_amendment

John Thomas Duelge i do not think speeding is a "catch me if you can" game. if you are on the public roads and you speed, you are breaking the law and endangering my right to a safe road.

Michael Swenson I agree, but the technology today is not just being used to catch speeders; but is storing and tracking people not just on roads, but in their homes, where they shop, how much they spend and what they purchase at retail outlets, groceries stores, etc. information is being compiled into huge databases and by other fallible beings that exploit citizens by mind control in media https://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=mind+control+in+media&oq=mind+control+in+media&gs_l=youtube.3..0.2005.6947.0.7684.21.13.0.8.8.0.114.1318.6j7.13.0...0.0...1ac.1.11.youtube.gTff45vHseY; targeted advertising; and even wrongful arrests and incarcerations by frame jobs. I am not for speeding; I am against this kind of invasive technology that I see as a violation of our God given and constitutional rights. And definitely, privacy, autonomy, http://www.law.cornell.edu/constitution/fourth_amendment the technology; bypasses all of that to be able to see into cars, homes, etc. via the use of infrared scopes; smart tracking devices linked to GPS in cars and cell phones; and to build a profile that could be exploited if powers so chose to make virtually anyone look like a criminal (violating any one of the thousands upon thousands of laws in existence these days; by design.

Fourth Amendment | U.S. Constitution | LII / Legal Information Institute

John Thomas Duelge i am less worried about "government" (which is still us ,esp at a local level) gathering this info. the real danger is walmart etc. gathering the info. the only way to prevent that data collection is to go cash only.

Michael Swenson Once again we're in agreement. However, the plutarchy taking over our nation and the world is not. With every camera, with every surveillance device; with every smart card, inventory scan and tracking device, they're only tightening their grip on each and every one of us; bringing about enslavement of the masses. All government surveillance devices; appearing to ever increase in numbers and use; only forge more links in our chains.

The line between the walmarts of the world and the governments of the world are virtually non-existent.

We should raise children to know God;

<http://www.facebook.com/notes/michael-swenson/no-more-brainwashing-no-more-lies-science-proves-who-god-is-part-1/518695411542756> ;

instead of big brother;

<http://www.george-orwell.org/1984> and <http://www.idph.com.br/conteudos/ebooks/BraveNewWorld.pdf>

and a world of growing terror subject to tyranny and oppression.

If we did, we would have citizens of integrity and wouldn't need to be weighing surveillance and big brother and the growing control of the corrupt plutarchy ruining our nation and the world against the freedoms we all cherish as defined by our Creator and the Bill of Rights that once made America the land of the free and the home of the brave. If we do not repent and return to our Creator; it is most obvious that America will become the land of wannabes and the home of slaves. (i.e. wannabe = want to be free)

"It will be found an unjust and unwise jealousy to deprive a man of his natural liberty upon the supposition he may abuse it."

George Washington

"In circumstances as dark as these, it becomes us, as Men and Christians, to reflect that whilst every prudent measure should be taken to ward off the impending judgments, ...at the same time all confidence must be withheld from the means we use; and reposed only on that God rules in the armies of Heaven, and without His whole blessing, the best human counsels are but foolishness."

John Hancock

"Among the natural rights of the colonists are these: First a right to life, secondly to liberty, and thirdly to property; together with the right to defend them in the best manner they can."

Samuel Adams
